Hello Spenser,

It was great to get to meet you and talk about Arsenal this weekend. Unfortunately I must inform you that the item you posted to Reddit is in violation of our media policy. If you are not aware of the policy, I have it here:

"No participating organization may speak in a derogatory manner about another participating organization or about DCI."

Our CEO brought your post to my attention and that the violation requires that your application for Open Class be suspended. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Respectfully,
Dave
